Ownership of Content & Platform

All content, software, systems, architecture and materials displayed on this website are the property of Logic Minds Pty Ltd unless otherwise stated.

This includes (without limitation):

- Proprietary software and platform infrastructure
- Source code and system architecture
- Website design, layout and user interface frameworks
- Databases and structural configurations
- Text, graphics, icons and visual assets
- Branding, logos and trade marks
- Documentation and methodologies

All rights are reserved under Australian and international intellectual property laws.

Licence-Based Technology Model

Logic Minds operates as a Software-as-a-Service (SaaS) technology provider.

Digital platforms developed and deployed for clients are licensed — not sold.

Unless expressly agreed in writing via a formal Intellectual Property Assignment Agreement:

- Ownership of all platform architecture and code remains with Logic Minds.
- Clients are granted a limited usage licence only.
- No proprietary system structure may be copied, transferred or replicated.

Restrictions on Use

You may not:

- Copy, reproduce or distribute any part of this website
- Reverse engineer platform components
- Replicate system architecture or structural frameworks
- Use our proprietary methodologies for commercial purposes
- Extract source code or database structures
- Reproduce SEO frameworks or metadata structures
- Any unauthorised use may result in legal action.

Client Content

Clients retain ownership of:

- Their logos
- Their trade marks
- Their written content
- Their product data

Logic Minds retains ownership of all technical implementation and structural design.

Trade Marks

“Logic Minds” and associated branding elements are trade marks of Logic Minds Pty Ltd.

All other trade marks referenced remain the property of their respective owners.

Enforcement

Logic Minds actively protects its intellectual property rights.

Unauthorised reproduction, migration, duplication or commercial use of proprietary systems may result in:

- Immediate suspension of services
- Legal proceedings
- Claims for damages
- Recovery of legal costs
